War Secretary Stimson today said army casualties for all theatres through Aug. 29, based on reports to next of kin, totaled 327,616, an increase of 21,821 from the total given a week ago. Canadian Cabinet Hears Churchill

QUEBEC (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill plans to sit in at a meeting of the Canadian cabinet's war committee to be held in the Citadel late today.

Military questions arising from the Churchill-Roosevelt conference will doubtless be up for discussion, with emphasis on the plans for the war against Japan and Canada's part in it.

Nazi Communist Reported Killed

LONDON (CP)—Ernest Thaelmann, the German Communist leader, was killed in an Allied air attack on the Buchenwald concentration camp near Weimar, Aug. 28, the German radio asserted tonight.

Dr. Rudolf Breitscheid, a Social Democrat leader, was killed in the same attack, the broadcast said.

Persons in London with good contacts with Germany expressed skepticism. They suggested that the former Reichstag leaders were eliminated in Hitler's campaign to wipe out every possible political leader, even those in concentration camps, who might make peace with the Allies.

Kootenay Ferry

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—The provincial government will build a modern fast ferry on Kootenay Lake as soon as it can find a shipyard able and willing to build it at a reasonable price. Public Works Minister Anscomb told 150 businessmen here.

The government has formulated a far-sighted road plan for the postwar construction period, Mr. Anscomb said.

Russians Reach Czech Border; Patrols Cross

LONDON (CP)—Massive Russian forces assaulting Warsaw fought today into the streets of Praga, the industrial suburb of the Polish capital on the east bank of the Vistula River, the Berlin radio announced.

Far to the south, other Russian troops reached the Czechoslovak frontier and one report said Cossack patrols were believed to have crossed the border within 50 miles of Kosice, sixth largest city of Czechoslovakia with 70,000 population.

Advancing five miles beyond the toppled Narew River bastion of Lomza, still other Russian troops drove to within 15 miles of East Prussia.

Yet another group of Russian armies moving swiftly through Romania was acknowledged by Berlin to have stormed through the Szekler corner of Transylvania, territory disputed between Romania and Hungary.

OFFENSIVE RESUMED

The enlivened activity all along the eastern front prompted Moscow reporters to cable that there were indications that Stalin had resumed his all-out offensive toward Germany itself.

Berlin's announcement that Russian troops were fighting in the streets of Praga meant that Marshal Rokossovsky's tanks, artillery and infantry finally had gained the ascendancy in an embittered battle of attrition which has raged for many weeks within gunshot of Poland's leading city.

(A broadcast communiqué from Marshal Tito's Partisan headquarters said his troops had captured Negotin in Yugoslavia, six miles from the Romanian and Bulgarian borders, and had made contact with the Red Army.

'RUSSIAN PARADES'

(A broadcast German war review commented doily that "in the Balkans one cannot talk of battles, but just of Russian parades.")

Front dispatches said mauled Nazi armored forces fell back chaotically to the northern elbow of the Narew River, pursued closely by Russian tanks carrying swarms of tommy-guns.

At midnight, the Kremlin announced capture of 30 settlements northeast of Warsaw, raising the flanking threat to the capital. Rokossovsky was supported in his frontal attack by the 1st Polish Army of Gen. Zygmunt Berlin, while inside Warsaw, partisans of Gen. Bor were reported still harrying the German occupants.

Japs Aid Harvest

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Japanese from interior B.C. evacuee camps are helping alleviate the labor shortage in the production and harvesting of crops in the Okanagan, the New Canadian, Japanese newspaper published at Kaslo, B.C., said in its latest issue.

Contingents of women and older men from Slocan City area camps and from New Denver are being accommodated in temporary farm camps in the Okanagan area.

More Rain Before Forests Are Safe

The forest fire situation in the province—extremely hazardous during June, July and August—is greatly improved and no new outbreaks were reported today by forestry officials.

Forester C. J. Haddon warned, however, that the province had not yet had enough rain to call the situation "safe," and that the danger of new outbreaks, particularly in logged-out areas, still was considerable.

Major fires in the province, particularly those of Youbou and Butte Lake, still are smouldering but are under complete control.

8th Army Breaks Italian Stalemate, Drives 1,000 Yards

ROME (CP)—British, Canadian and Indian elements of the British 8th Army have broken a stalemate which halted their advance on the Adriatic front for several days and have advanced 1,000 yards in the Coriano-San Savino area, it was announced today.

Meantime the Allied 5th Army—which now is known to include several British divisions and the 6th South African Division—cracked through German outposts all along the front between Pisa and Lucca and is battering at the forward fringe of the main Gothic Line.

On the Adriatic sector British forces recaptured two bitterly-contested points about 1,000 yards northwest of Croce and continued to forge ahead.

Headquarters emphasized that the Gothic Line is a defence zone several miles in depth studded with many concrete emplacements. Trenches, tank obstacles, mines and dugouts are ranged along the mountainsides "and everything conceivable has been done to make the position strong."

The location of the deepest Allied penetration was not disclosed specifically.

Big U.S. Oil Company Eyes Peace River Oil

With its eye on oil in the northern part of British Columbia, one of North America's biggest oil companies, Sococo-Vacuum Company (Standard Oil Company of New York) today was extra-provincially registered at the Parliament Buildings under the Companies Act.

Sococo, in its registration papers, informs the registrar of companies that "the principal business which the company will carry on in the province is geological and other exploratory work in connection with oil development."

Tremendous activity in the suspected oil fields of the Peace River district are expected as soon as the war ends. Realizing this, the government last session enacted new legislation dealing with oil development, allowing private enterprise to explore, but making sure the people will collect high royalties and that companies must develop the lands they obtain and not hold them for speculation.

B.C. representatives of Sococo-Vacuum are Buell, Ellis & Sargent, Vancouver. Capitalization is $100,000.

Directors in New York of the big company are Paul J. Butties, John C. Case, Austin T. Foster, E. Jablonski, W. L. King Jr., John F. Seal, Robert Siegel.

Talk Empire Tasks At Quebec Meeting

By FRANK FLAHERTY

QUEBEC (CP)—Within the framework of the over-all military and economic plans being worked out at the Churchill-Roosevelt conference, Canadian and British chiefs of staff are getting down to the job of planning the division of work among Canadian and other Empire and associated forces, it is evident today.

Already the Anglo-Canadian phase of the second Quebec conference has started informally, and following Wednesday's meeting here, the Canadian chiefs of staff will meet more frequently with their British counterparts.

TIME FOR SPEED-UP

As President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill began their fourth day of meetings, there were indications that a speed-up of military plans for operations against Japan on the assumption the European war will end soon are nearly complete and that attention is being given to some war and post-war economic problems.

Stephen Early, press secretary to Mr. Roosevelt, announced the conference was making "excellent progress" and would be finished at the week-end as far as the President is concerned.

The calling to Quebec of the Australian and New Zealand High Commissioners to Canada, announced Wednesday, indicates Pacific discussions have reached a point where definite information on plans and decisions is ready for communication to the Australian and New Zealand governments.

TO MAKE OWN PLANS

As in the case of Canada, the communication of the information will enable the two Dominions to make their own plans within the framework of the over-all scheme for crushing Japan.

The Pacific war plan being shaped in Quebec will call for a great shifting and reorienting of the Canadian war effort. There will be a change in emphasis from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts.

Canadian cabinet ministers and chiefs of staff came to Quebec prepared to provide full Canadian co-operation in and support of the joint plans for final stages of the Japanese war. They brought information on the strength of Canadian forces and volume of supplies which can be provided.

Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt cannot tell the world whether large or small armies will be employed against Japan without giving away their plan of campaign.

To defeat Germany it was obvious large armies would be required and no secret was made of the fact they were being mobilized and moved into position for the attack. In the case of Japan it might be considered better to use smaller task forces, like those used in the South Pacific, for landings and occupation while reducing the enemy's strength through air and sea bombardment.

BOTH WARS REVIEWED

Canadian military authorities are believed to favor returning the overseas army to Canada when its European job is finished and sending any required forces to the Far East across the Pacific.

Although making clear that the main conference business is the Pacific war, Presidential spokesman Stephen Early keeps reminding correspondents that the Pacific war cannot be separated from the European war and so both have to be reviewed.

The future of some hundreds of thousands of Canadian soldiers overseas thus depends on:

1. The time the European war ends;
2. The contribution Canada is asked to make to armies of occupation;
3. The way the Pacific war is to be fought;
4. The route by which land forces are to be moved to the Pacific.

Himmler Acts Fast As S.S. Men Fire Into Berlin Peace Crowd

LONDON (AP)—Heinrich Himmler, German dictator of the home front, tightened the lid on a bomb-blasted Berlin with a reshuffled police command tonight a few hours after the French radio had reported peace riots there in which S.S. troops fired on the demonstrators.

Himmler named Kurt Goehrum, an S.S. group leader and lieutenant-general of police, as supreme police commandant for Berlin.

The S.S. brigade leader, Maj. Gen. of Police Erik von Heimburg, was named new commandant of Berlin security police. He replaced Otto Klinger, an S.S. group leader and lieutenant-general of police, who was announced as pensioned.

Reports of troubles within the beleaguered Reich increased, meanwhile. The Moscow radio said thousands of foreign workers were escaping from German and Austrian war plants, seeking to reach Yugoslavia and cross the Swiss border in response to Gen. Eisenhower's advice to quit their war machines.

The radio of the French Forces of the Interior at Lyon first reported the peace clashes in Berlin.

The broadcast did not indicate the source of the report and there was no information from other quarters.

A similar report, however, was broadcast later by the French national radio at Lyon, the Ministry of Information said.

(The U.S. Office of War Information quoted the Lyon radio as saying that "riots are reported to have taken place in Berlin," and added: "During one fight a small group of rebels routed an S.S. formation and went back into hiding before the arrival of police reinforcements.")

Aachen Passed As Troops Drive Into Germany

LONDON (AP)—U.S. infantry ripped open the first line of Siegfried defences below Aachen today and smashed two miles deep into the line on a four-mile front in the Luxembourg area.

Between the two deep penetrations First Army units tore eight miles into outer defences toward the major bastion of Prum, 10 miles inside Germany.

To the south, German broadcasts said, the 3rd Army forged an 18-mile salient across the Moselle which fashioned an iron pincers on the Moselle stronghold of Nancy.

Aachen was passed in the plunging drive below that hub at the corner of the German, Belgian and Netherlands border lands.

With the first line of defences torn open, the U.S. troops plowed on toward the second belt of fortifications, an AP dispatch from the front said.

WIDE BROKEN FRONT

Forty miles to the south, just opposite the northern tip of Luxembourg, other 1st Army units rolled eight miles toward Prum. That offensive was said to be proceeding all along a wide broken front.

Berlin admitted the U.S. 3rd Army had driven to Chateau-Salins, 18 miles beyond the Moselle at Pont-a-Mousson, 14 miles northeast of Nancy and 24 miles southeast of Metz.

South of Nancy, over broadcasts from Berlin said the 3rd Army had reached the outer rim of Luneville, 14 southeast of Nancy and 16 miles northeast of Charmes.

A general advance of about six miles was scored in the Aachen-Prum sectors.

DAY OF SUCCESS

At Aachen the back of the Siegfried Line of concrete bunkers and thick earthen forts was believed broken, and dispatches characterized the day as one of "measured but great success."

Some 500 miles behind the front line U.S. troops smashed their way inside the long-besieged port of Brest. U.S. medium and dive bombers bombed the German garrison defences for 50 minutes despite poor weather which limited air activity elsewhere, and pilots reported seeing U.S. troops fighting the Germans in the submarine pen area west of the city.

'Congratulations'

From Duncan today Miss P. Carr Hilton today sent the following:

"I was very pleased to see that at least one newspaper in Victoria appreciated the Quiz Kids. Congratulations to the Victoria Daily Times on its splendid write-up of their visit to Victoria."

"To someone who would have loved to have been there, it was so nice to be able at least to read a full account of them and their doings."

"The pictures, too, were just what we had been hoping for."

Germany Raided Again By Heavies After Brief Lull

LONDON (CP)—A long procession of heavy bombers headed out across the North Sea toward Germany in improving weather early tonight after clouds and squalls had limited reported air blows in the west to a 50-minute bombardment of Brest by medium and dive bombers during the afternoon.

A survey of official reports today showed that in the last six days Allied aircraft operating from British bases alone have destroyed at least 347 enemy planes.

In the same period, Allied losses have totaled 105 fighters and 225 heavy bombers.

The survey includes figures from the R.A.F. and the U.S. 8th and 9th Air Forces, but not from the 2nd Tactical Air Force, planes of which have been making dawn-to-dark sorties almost daily in support of Allied ground troops.

The air offensive continued unabated throughout Wednesday night with R.A.F. Mosquitoes blasting Berlin with two-ton blockbusters for the fourth night in a row while other planes flew in direct support of land forces stabbing into Germany.

It was the 31st raid on the German capital since Allied troops landed on the continent June 6 and rounded out a 24-hour cycle in which more than 10,000 tons of high explosives were heaped on Germany in four massive heavy-bomber assaults.

The Air Ministry announced two planes were lost in the Berlin raid.

Help for Enemy Countries, Problem Faced By U.N.R.R.A.

By JAMES MCCOOK

MONTREAL (CP)—Delegates arriving for the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Council meeting which will open Friday were agreed today that a major problem to be decided is whether U.N.R.R.A. assistance will be granted in enemy as well as liberated countries.

The understanding has been that U.N.R.R.A. will operate in enemy or ex-enemy territory only if the enemy can pay for all the relief granted. But delegates said it now was obvious there would be difficulty in applying this hard and fast rule.

Millions of workers from other countries have been taken to Germany for forced labor and their return to their homes is a matter which U.N.R.R.A. will accept as one of its rehabilitation responsibilities. This makes it practically certain that U.N.R.R.A. will operate within German boundaries in some form. Whether its benefits will be made available to the German people themselves still has to be decided.

Displaced or homeless persons in Europe are estimated to number more than 30,000,000.

ITALY NOT HELPED

U.N.R.R.A. has not gone into action in Italian territories now under control of the Allies where the military still is in charge of relief operations. Here again a decision will have to be made by the U.N.R.R.A. council on whether Italians are to be granted assistance.

U.N.R.R.A. officials said the rapid movement of Allied armies in France and Belgium had reduced German opportunities to destroy agricultural resources before they left, but U.N.R.R.A. still faced a gigantic task in providing assistance to those who had felt the scorching touch of war.

Requirements of relief in the first six months after the liberation of Europe are expected to mean the importation of 45,855,000 tons of supplies, of which 9,500,000 tons would be shipped from North America. In such shipments, Canadian wheat and other supplies are likely to represent a substantial proportion.

Canada, by virtue of her monetary contribution, her stores of food and her interest in international welfare, will be a major participant in the 44-nation meeting.

Some forecasts have said that Hon. L. B. Pearson, Canadian Minister to Washington, will be elected chairman of the meeting.

Nazi Atrocities

By HAROLD MAYES
BRUSSELS (CP-Reuters)—Atrocities committed by the Germans were described vividly when I visited the former Gestapo headquarters in a peaceful Brussels street.

Men were herded into tiny compartments measuring only three feet square by three feet deep and subjected to torture if they refused to talk.

Others were placed 40 and 50 in a room only nine feet by seven. Pregnant women were kicked in the stomach and burned with lighted cigarette ends. Thousands of citizens were subjected to horrible treatment.

Women Maquis in Marseille, Citizens in Brussels, Celebrate Their Freedom From the Nazis

Armed women of the Maquis, French underground army of liberation, display their rifles and pistols as they take part in the parade in Marseille after the great port city was freed. The Nazis put up a bitter fight here for several days after surrendering.

Another great capital was freed from Nazi rule when the Allies entered Brussels in Belgium. Here, waving hats and flags, citizens of Brussels gather in the Grand Place de Bruxelles to celebrate the end of four years of tyranny.

Eden Expected At Quebec Parley

QUEBEC (CP)—Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, is coming almost immediately to the Quebec conference of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, it was confirmed here today.

The Foreign Secretary attended last year's Quebec conference, arriving late in the meeting as he is doing this year. State Secretary Cordell Hull or the United States also attended the 1943 conference, but there was no definite word whether Mr. Hull will come this time.

However, Mr. Eden's expected arrival made it seem likely either Mr. Hull or some other high officer of the State Department will be on hand for conference discussions on various European problems—perhaps postwar border problems and postwar security.

Overnight arrivals at the conference included Henry Morgenthau, U.S. Treasury Secretary, and Rear-Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the U.S. War Shipping Board.

Mr. Eden's arrival, whether or not it means a widening of the range of discussions to include political and diplomatic as well as military questions, is not expected to lengthen the conference beyond the planned time for ending it at the week-end.

Bennys Unexpectant

HONOLULU (AP)—Jack Benny's gag about being an expectant father was just that. He was kidding.

The comedian told a crowd of service men here: "My wife, Mary Livingston, wanted to make this trip with me but one of us had to stay home and have the baby. We tossed a couple of dimes to see who would go, and I won."

Benny ruefully added Wednesday: "I intended to say I was only kidding, but forgot it. I must have been island happy."

"Anyway, I got a laugh." In Hollywood his wife denied the story.

Merriman Round-up...

ABOUT EVERY third person seems to have flippantly suggested that Hitler should be put into a cage and exhibited but nobody expected anything like that was happening. In the animal cages of the Antwerp zoo are all the German sailors, soldiers, quills and collaborators taken by the local resistance movement. Where the lions were are German officers. Panther cages have German non-commissioned officers. The tiger cages are taken by men of the blackshirt Fascist movement and where there used to be wildcats there is a throng of weeping women.

TO EASE the annual textbook headache, the School Board might help a lot if a month ahead of school opening it advertised in detail the books parents are expected to buy for their youngsters, giving the books required for each grade, specifying the books that are issued and the books the student has to secure. It would save that eight deep line-up at counters the first day of school... Miss Margaret Wilson has a cutting way of dealing with those who are opposing an arena in Victoria. Of one opponent she says: "I believe he should be voted the person most unpleasant to know and I have told him so." She complains some people would rather pay taxes for guns to murder people than for an arena to help keep young people off the streets. "I think," she says of the arena opponent, "he must be at least 70, wear a long grey beard and hate children." With the confidence of youth Margaret says she is speaking "for all the other young people in Victoria" when she says people like this arena opponents are keeping Victoria in the Stone Age.

PITY the poor congressman in Washington. His earnings are $4,000 a year less than the blind operator of the cigarette and soft drink stand in the U.S. government buildings. But they both do all right. A congressman gets $10,000. The blind salesman and the ban on telephone talks between Ireland and England, put on to prevent possible leakage of vital information, has been lifted. The travel ban is still on... In five years of war Jews of the United States have contributed $82,000,000 to relieve the plight of their fellows in Europe... At 98 Senator Turgeon, dean of the Canadian Senate, enjoys good health and is able to read without glasses.

ANOTHER peace harbinger—within a few days virtually all processed foods other than canned fruits will be taken from the ration category in the United States. More meat may also be ration free in a few days... Postwar airplane traffic at Essendon, chief airport in Australia, is expected to be 500,000 passengers a year...

ACCORDING to news from Ottawa it will be safer not to burn those blackout screens. While the lights soon go on in London, machinery still exists in Canada to enforce blackout regulations on both coasts anytime an emergency arises. Civil defence officials don't know yet whether the action of the British ministry will bring about any relaxation of air raid precautions in Canada. Dimout restrictions are still in force along the banks of the St. Lawrence.

Salmon Pack Down

Total canned salmon pack from British Columbia's three fishing districts for the week ended Sept. 9 was 854,366 cases, it was announced today in a report from the Chief Supervisor of Fisheries. The pack in the corresponding period last year was 911,133 cases. The packs for various kinds follow, with figures for the 1943 corresponding period in brackets: Sockeye, 243,404 (154,507); springs, 6,127 (8,169); steelheads, 2,790 (2,464); bluebacks, 12,014 (13,905); coho, 108,842 (123,724); pinks, 380,180 (486,286); chums, 101,007 (122,077).

25 Dead, 65 Hurt As 2 U.S. Trains Collide Head-On

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—At least 25 persons were killed and about 65 injured early today in the collision of two Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad passenger trains three miles north-west of here. Nearly all those killed and injured were soldiers.

The trains, one crack Dixie Flyer, southbound, and the other a mail and express train, crashed head-on during a heavy fog.

The engine, tender, two baggage cars and the first two of three Pullmans on the Dixie Flyer left the track and piled up along the right of way. All cars of the other train held the track.

The first two Pullmans of the Flyer carried only soldiers. A major, who declined to give his name, said all of the men were overseas air force veterans, most of whom wore the Purple Heart decoration. He said they were on 30-day furloughs, after which they were to have been taken to redistribution centres.

Through the wreckage and alongside the tracks lay Purple Heart decorations and Air Medals. Baggage of the soldiers and civilians was strewn for 100 yards.

The collision took place at 1:20 a.m., C.D.T. It is a single track line.

French Advancing Up Marne River Towards Chaumont

By SID FEDER

ROME (AP)—French troops smashed up the Marne River today to within 15 miles of Chaumont, while the Allied assault on the Belfort gateway to southwestern Germany drew nearer with the U.S. entrance into Villersexel and the fall of Pont de Roide to the French.

The break into Villersexel put the U.S. less than 20 miles west of Belfort.

Pont de Roide, 16 miles south of Belfort, was cleared of the enemy after a two-day street-by-street struggle.

The Germans, battling bitterly in an effort to halt the southern spear of the three-pronged attack on the Belfort gap, Wednesday night started a strong counter-attack. For the second day in a row the Germans threw tanks into the fight.

The northward-plunging French on the left flank of the 7th Army front found opposition light for the third straight day and overran Langres, a town of 6,000, and an important communications centre 65 miles southwest of Nancy, then pushed ahead toward Chaumont.

U.S. forces maintained a steady, swift advance across the wide reaches of the flatlands area of Vesoul, which includes the valleys of the Dohubs, Ognon and Saone.

Anglican Bishops Meet at St. Anne

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE, Que. (CP)—Twenty-five Archbishops and Bishops of the Church of England in Canada met in closed session in this college town today, the first meeting of the House of Bishops in the Montreal district in a decade. Next week the annual meetings of the departments and committees of the General Synod will start at Macdonald College.

More than 100 clerical and lay delegates are expected to attend the meetings next week. From Monday through Friday sessions of the pension board, missionary society, executive council, board of management, basic clerical stipend committee and the National Laymen's Council will be held.

Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen, Primate of All Canada, is president at the meetings of the House of Bishops. Many visiting Bishops will preach in Anglican churches throughout Montreal Sunday. Among those attending the House of Bishops is Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton of Victoria, Bishop of British Columbia.

Chinese Recapture Burma Road Key

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese High Command today announced recapture of Tengchung from the Japanese, saying this "marks another high point in the effort to clear the area west of the Salween River and removes another obstacle to reopening of the Burma road."

"The fall of the city, held by the Japanese for more than two years and once their Yunnan province headquarters, goes far toward accomplishing the purpose of the offensive—to reopen the Burma Road in China and join with Gen. Stilwell's forces in northern Burma."

Secession Solicitors Appointed By Ward 6

Annual meeting of Ward Six Ratepayers' Association Wednesday evening gave authority to its directors to appoint E. L. Tait and A. J. Patton as its solicitors for the presentation to the provincial cabinet of a brief on the ward's secession from Saanich municipality.

Although the meeting with the cabinet may be before the end of the month, no definite date has been set. Sydney Pickles, association president, informed the meeting the number of property owners signing the secession petition was well above the minimum set by the Saanich Relief Act.

Action taken by its directors to date was given unanimous approval by the association. Re-elected by acclamation, the directors are: Mr. Pickles, president; L. Taylor, vice-president; Peter Whitehouse, secretary; W. McNally, auditor; W. D. Michell, William C. Kersey and N. Gray.

Secession is also being sought by Ward Five Ratepayers' Association, who are now working towards that end.

Faces Many Charges

VANCOUVER (CP)—Alfred LaPlante, 36, today awaited trial on five charges of rape, five of burglary with intent to commit rape, three of robbery with violence, one of carrying an offensive weapon, one of possessing burglar tools, one of attempted robbery with violence, one of burglary and one of theft of a gun.

LaPlante was committed for trial on the charges after preliminary hearings in police court Wednesday before Magistrate H.

S. Wood. The prosecution entered stays of proceedings on charges of indecent assault and of retaining stolen property.

On the witness stand five women identified LaPlante as the man who had assaulted them in their homes.

Medical Leader Hits State Health

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. Harris McPhedran of Toronto said Wednesday night Canadians would be well advised to allow the Canadian medical profession to remain the custodian of the nation's health, rather than let control of health matters pass into the "unskilled hands of politicians and petty bureaucrats."

Dr. McPhedran, president of the Canadian Medical Association, addressing a public meeting, said the association would invite representatives of acknowledged groups of the insured to a conference on the question of health insurance legislation.

It is not in the public interest that the medical profession be completely converted into a state-controlled and salaried service, as under state medicine, he said.

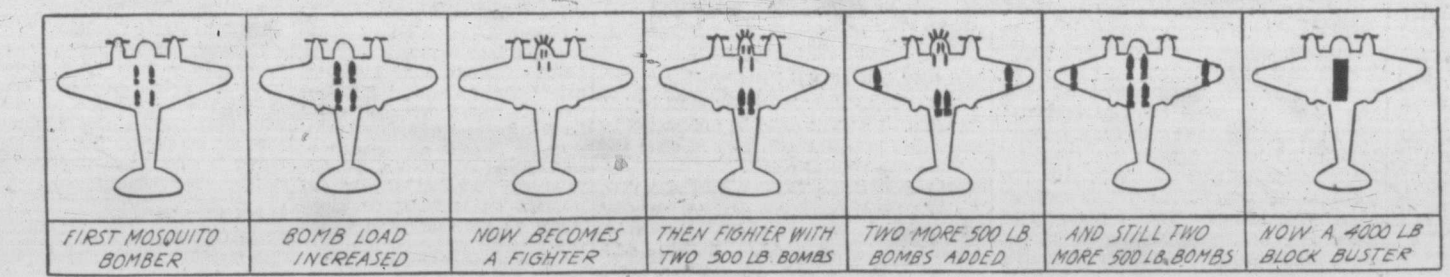

Any health insurance plan must be compulsory for persons having insufficient incomes to meet the costs of adequate medical care. Adequate nutrition, education and recreation should precede or accompany any future organization of medical services.

Dr. McPhedran said the Canadian Medical Association regards as essential to the establishment of a satisfactory national health insurance plan, that health insurance be administered by an independent, non-political commission.

Wooden Wonder of Skies Now Carries Blockbusters

It was back in 1942 that certain technical journals in Britain published this brief "biological" notice:

Anopheles de Havillandus (Offensicus)

Characteristics: 'Furious and aggressive. Prolific. Flies great distances to deposit eggs which are both distasteful and harmful. When molested shoots unpleasant streams from multiple proboscis.'

Even then, three years of planning and arguing had gone into developing the sting of what soon came to be known as the "wooden wonder," while in the two years since, that sting has been increased manifold, as a visit to any R.A.F. or R.C.A.F.

Fast New Spitfire
WASHINGTON (AP)—A fast and powerful new Spitfire, pulled through the air by a five-bladed propeller which gives it fighting strength at 40,000 feet and higher, came off the British Air Ministry's secret list Wednesday night.

It's been cruising enemy territory for months looking for a fight, but the timid Luftwaffe has made it a lonesome job.

The new R.A.F. fighter—officially designated the Spitfire Mark XIV—is powered by a new Rolls-Royce engine developing more than 2,000 horsepower. The five-bladed propeller was developed to carry the extra engine power.

Alternative armaments are four 20 MM. cannon, or two 20 MM. cannon and two .50 inch

Victorian Wins $500
VANCOUVER (CP)—James R. Stratton of Vancouver won the grand prize of a $7,000 house or that amount in Victory Bonds in a Lions' Club draw here Wednesday night.

A Victoria resident, R. O. Swift of Royal Oak, picked for $500 second prize. Other winners included: G. A. Corry of Royal Oak, Victoria, $250; A. I. Dods, Victoria, $100; Miss M. N. Robe, Victoria, $100.

Mosquito bomber station shows. The two-motored Mosquito airplane is now flying higher and faster than any other bomber in the world.

December 29, 1939, was the fateful day on which an air ministry conference laid down an official plan for the construction of "a wooden bomber, with crew of two and no armament, to be designed around two Rolls-Royce Merlin engines, a bomb load of 1,000 pounds, a range of 1,500 miles, and the performance of a fighter."

The Mosquito should have almost literally "flown off the drawing board," but then came the calamitous events of Dunkirk, and the authorities became so fighter-minded that Mosquito construction was allowed to continue only if it did not interfere with "more important" work.

Even after this snag had been overcome, authorities worrying over the idea of an unarmed bomber ordered a contract cut to 20, the other 30 to be finished as fighters. It was not until they saw the first bomber in action that de Havillands' problems switched overnight from chasing begging orders to trying to cope with those which flooded them.

With all the setbacks, this was Nov. 25, 1940, only 11 months less than four years from the start of design.

July, 1941, in the full bloom of official enthusiasm, brought the company instructions that it must prepare to build "in quantity," making use of Canadian factories, too, if possible.

September 19, 1941, brought the Mosquito's first mission against the enemy, a photographic reconnaissance assignment carried out at a height of 4 1/2 miles.

May 28-29, 1942, was the night of the first "probable" kill by a Mosquito home-defence fighter, but not until Sept. 26 was the Mosquito mentioned in public. A dashing attack had been carried out the previous afternoon on the Gestapo headquarters at Oslo.

Winter 1942-43 saw the development of the fighter-bomber, finally carrying no less than 2,000-pound bombs in addition to four cannon and four machine-guns. The load of the unarmed bomber version was increased from 1,000 to 3,000 pounds.

January 30, 1943: Sweeping to Berlin in daylight, Mosquitos unceremoniously put Marshal Goering off the air and spoilt Nazi party birthday celebrations.

In August, 1943, the first Canadian-built Mosquito flew the Atlantic.

February 23-24, 1944: On this night the first 4,000-pound "block-buster" bomb was carried by a Mosquito to Germany.

March, 1944, saw a Mosquito fly from Toronto to New York at an average speed of 411 m.p.h.

Church Delegates Ask Liquor Trade Be Nationalized
LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Discussion and endorsement of a number of resolutions dealing with the liquor industry in Canada took up the major portion of Wednesday night's session of the 11th General Council of the United Church of Canada.

By an overwhelming vote, the council voted approval of nationalization of the alcohol industry on the ground that "the immense financial revenues behind the liquor traffic constitute the greatest obstacle of its being handled effectively."

Debate was marked by criticism of the liquor interests and a statement by Rev. John Coburn, associate secretary of the board of evangelism and social service, that nationalization was the best course to adopt at the present time. He told of instances where liquor interests had paid sums for political purposes.

"We remember one brewer—I think British Columbia—who admitted collecting funds from other brewers and dividing them 60 per cent to the party in power and 40 per cent to the opposition," he said.

The War Today
By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
The United Nations' success in Europe continues to pile up, but the most significant news is the word from Quebec Conference circles that Allied armies are driving into Germany ahead of D-Day schedule.

This means that at the time of the invasion, more than three months ago, the Allied high command did such a remarkable job of crystal-gazing that they're still on the beam for Gen. Eisenhower's prediction that the war is likely to end this year.

Things are going so well that London says United States war-planning chiefs are reported to have established Oct. 31 as the tentative "outside" date for the collapse of organized resistance in Germany. I won't argue that point, but merely reiterate that anything can happen at any time when German fortunes are in such a critical state, though there's likely to be some tough fighting yet.

The Germans thus far have given indication they intend to battle to a finish. Their military operations show this, and Hitler has given fresh sign of his own determination in a warning to the people to "fight to the bitter end" and not bow to any Allied ultimatum for surrender. The Nazi dictator tells his people there's "no difference between these so-called 'liberators' and the blood-thirsty Russians."

SHORTER FRONTS
The Nazi will fight on in there. That's the known quantity.

The unknown element is how much strength remains to implement this determination. It's clear Germany is close to collapse, but Hitler may be able to put up a stiff final battle after shortening his fronts and concentrating his depleted manpower.

While there's vast encouragement in the news that the Allies have reached German soil, and even have cracked the outer defence of the Siegfried Line at one or two points, we are not entitled to reach sweeping conclusions from this. The Nazis won't try to defend all points of the frontier, and it must be remembered that the Westwall isn't a solid line of fortifications, as its name suggests.

DECEMBER ELECTION?

POLITICAL CRYSTAL-GAZERS ARE trying to fix the date on which Mr. MacKenzie King will ask the Canadian people for new instructions. Their latest prediction would put it somewhere between the last week in November and the second week in December. Only a few of the prognosticators are toying with the idea that the Prime Minister intends to hold a short session of Parliament before asking for a dissolution. The startling progress of the United Nations in all theatres of war seems to have ruled out the prospect of ministerial delay.

Mr. King is maintaining a discreet silence. He said he would prefer no election until the war is won; but he assured Parliament at the same time that he had no intention of denying the Canadian people their right to choose a new government every five years. And his constitutional term will expire in the middle of next April. There is every likelihood, however, that Germany will collapse in time for the Prime Minister to make his plans for an appeal well before the second week in December. In any case, the campaign in the west had not begun when Mr. King made his pronouncement to Parliament; its huge success in so short a time has pleasantly upset numerous calculations.

As to the progress of the war in general, apart from its influence on federal political strategy, the Prime Minister is getting first-hand reports of developments from Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt at the Quebec conference. In addition to his intimate knowledge of the western campaign, the British Prime Minister was recently in Italy and returned to England well informed on conditions in the Mediterranean theatre. And the President's trip to the Hawaiian Islands and Alaska likewise gave him a complete picture of anticipated events in the broad areas of the Pacific. It is true, Marshal Stalin is not at Quebec; but the march of the Soviet armies toward the Reich is played by the daily news dispatches.

Notwithstanding the rapidly-moving scene on all the battlefronts, more especially the signs of early victory over Germany, it is essential that Mr. King discuss with the electorate his proposals for Canada's peace-time progress. Much already has been accomplished in anticipation of the impact of the aftermath of war. Much remains to be done. The present Prime Minister naturally wants to know how the people feel toward his government. He will probably learn much from the Quebec conference that will help him to decide the date of the election.

GETTING SILLIER

GERMAN SPOKESMEN AND PROPAGANDISTS really ought to get together and strike a balance if only to try to suggest to the outside world that some form of agreement exists in the Reich—which, of course, is not the case.

Commenting on the proceedings in Quebec, for example, the Berlin radio suggests to the German people that a new Allied surrender ultimatum will emerge from the parley; but Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter assures all and sundry that "the Allies know full well that Germany will play her decisive trump card in the near future and that the war must be won at all costs." This sounds silly enough. However, the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung shrieks on its front page that the United Nations are "only beginning to face the big battle for Germany," adding that "that is the difficulty in their effort to win the war this year, so they turn upon Japan."

On the other side of the picture, according to a dispatch from Switzerland, Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian, chief of the German general staff, with the support of his Field Marshals and the whole high command, has advised the Fuehrer that the worst could be expected at any moment. Other reports lend color to the suggestion that the breach between the two factions of the Nazi party is growing wider from day to day. These are the Hitler-Himmler-Goebbels-von Ribbentrop gang, known as the "Vernichtungspartei," or destruction party, and Goering's "Friedenspartei," or peace party.

The foregoing and other ditties which come over the air waves from the Reich again prove that most Germans are wholly unprepared for the psychology of defeat. They are still supermen at heart—the result, of course, of long indoctrination. But millions of the deluded ones know their geography; they understand the meaning of the nearness of the conflict to what they call their "holy soil."

Most Germans know the Fuehrer has no trump cards left. They realize, too, that preparations for the final assault against Japan is the natural corollary of a nearly-completed job in Europe. They see the truth of this in the German "detaching movements" in the west, the east, and the south. And they are hearing the pounding on the "Siegfried Line"—perhaps reading their instructions in General Eisenhower's leaflets.

CANADA'S POSTWAR NAVY

IN 1941 A POSTWAR NAVY OF 9,000 officers and men was authorized by the federal government. This figure was set as the basis for plans for permanent buildings at the two naval bases of Esquimalt and Halifax. Now Hon. Angus Macdonald, Minister of Naval Affairs, has come out for a peacetime navy of 15,000. His proposal for the larger force will be endorsed by all who are conscious of the growing importance of Canada's place in international affairs and the obligation on us as a nation to live up to that responsibility.

Before the war, our naval establishment counted a personnel of only 1,700. From that it has expanded to more than 90,000. Maintenance of a permanent force at the figure proposed by Mr. Macdonald would mean that one out of six men now serving would stay in the navy after the war. Undoubtedly, this quota will be easily filled from the ranks of those who have been long enough in the service during the war years to desire to continue and make it their career. At present only 4,500 of the total enlistment are permanent force naval men. A permanent establishment of 15,000 would therefore call for the re-enlistment of 10,500 now serving as volunteer reservists.

Today the navy has 350 fighting ships and some 500 harbor and similar craft. Envisioned by the minister is a postwar fleet of 35 or 40 warships, of which two might be cruisers, two aircraft carriers and the rest destroyers, frigates, corvettes and smaller craft. As the number would be divided between the two coasts, that would mean quite a fleet based at Esquimalt with a complement of several thousand men.

The cost of the 15,000-man navy is estimated at $50,000,000 a year, compared with the present navy outlay of $400,000,000 a year. This should not be beyond the ability of Canada to carry—especially in view of our status as a great trading nation. There will be plenty of work to keep a navy of the size proposed busy in peacetime, as, for one thing, there are years of work to be done in mapping coastal areas.

For years before the war our naval policy was bogged down in controversy. Fortunate it was that when war came we were able to come through with a force that has really counted in the determination of victory. No Canadian, we believe, is willing that our naval position in the future be again left to chance. Our national dignity, if not our possible safety, demands that we have a permanent and effective sea force, which will carry on in the traditions being established by our sailors in this war.

ACHIEVEMENT VS. EXPERIMENT

WHEN THE PEOPLE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA go to the polls to elect a new Legislature they will have to decide between a government which has followed promise with practical performance and an "experiment of the inexperienced." With the facts of actual achievement which stand to the credit of this province's coalition administration in mind, Hon. R. L. Maitland, Attorney-General in the Hart ministry, confined an excellent radio address last night to the examination of the business transacted at the third session of the present provincial Parliament—emphasizing in particular the important fact that the forward-looking program announced in the Speech from the Throne had been translated into action.

While the general public of British Columbia is manifesting its warm approval of the businesslike manner in which the coalition administration is conducting its affairs—made possible by the substitution of commonsense procedure for blind adherence to party labels which have no significance in provincial affairs—Mr. Maitland chose simple and convincing phraseology to draw his contrast between the record of tried servants and the dangers to the future of the province were its destiny to be consigned to the inexperienced advocates of state Socialism—with its regimentation and controls. His words should be carefully weighed by the electors, and especially by those who, on occasion, are dazzled by the extravagant promises of a party whose methods take little or no cognizance of the stern realities of these times.

VITAL TO OUR PROSPERITY

THE IMPORTANCE OF EXPORTS IN Canada's economy is emphasized by Hon. James A. MacKinnon, federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, in an article entitled, "Canada Lives by Exports" in the current issue of the department's Commercial Intelligence Journal. "As a self-contained trading unit," he says, quoting the Monetary Times, "Canada would slip back into peasantries. Her whole future depends on exports."

War has dislocated our normal export trade. However, what we have lost has been more than replaced, with the wartime gains exceeding the losses many times over. But this condition is highly abnormal. At the end of the conflict our export trade will have to be swung back without delay to a 100 per cent peacetime basis if our national high standard of living is to be maintained. This, as Mr. MacKinnon declares, will be the biggest commercial task in our history.

Our development, like that of all young countries, has been based to a high degree on export markets. Whole regions of Canada and many of her major industries have always depended and still depend on exports for their prosperity. Years hence their reliance on exports may be less than it is today. But the immediate prospect, the prospect for as far ahead as most of us are able to see, is that the larger producing sections and many of the greater Canadian industries must continue to live by exports. These are hard, fundamental facts that we must keep ever before us as we approach the task of formulating our postwar tariff and other fiscal policies.

Loose Ends

By R. J. DEACHMAN

WE GET WHAT WE PRODUCE

I TOLD THIS story before—it must be told again. I wish it could be understood by every man in business, in politics, or in any other active field of effort. It happened at a Y.M.C.A. discussion club. I asked the man sitting next to me what he expected to get out of life. He wanted a good job, a happy home, holidays with pay, a good car, a wife, two children, a girl and a boy, retirement at 60—a comfortable pension and a golf field not far from his place of abode.

Then up spoke a man in air force uniform. He spoke slowly as one whose thoughts moved through a medium not his own. "You expect," said he, "a great deal out of life, much more than the average man can obtain. Would you mind telling us how much more you expect to put in, for the average man can take out of life, just what the average man puts in—no more!"

The question was never answered. The young man to whom it was addressed had no clear conception of what he had to offer. He suffered from the delusion that it was the duty of the state to provide the good things of life, but he did not know the nature of the entries to be made on the other side of the account.

The airman who asked the question was a Greek. He had been driven out of Greece by the Germans. He went to Egypt, then England, then the United States, later to Canada. He hoped to get back to Greece. I hope he gets there. He was the type of man who deserves his freedom.

"He only earns his freedom and existence. Who daily conquers them anew."

REPORTER 'FREES' MONTE CARLO

BUT DROPS $22 AT BACCARAT

Reynolds Packard in cable to Toronto Star
I have "liberated" the principality of Monaco—but it cost me $22, in a short-lived attempt to "break the bank of Monte Carlo." Prince Louis II, reigning monarch of the vest-pocket principality on the Riviera, gave me special permission to cross the frontier from France.

The players bending over the green baize tables at the famous Casino hardly glanced up from their games but most of the people of Monaco hailed us as a symbol of their liberation from German occupation with popping champagne corks and an impromptu fete.

Allied commanders had forbidden troops to cross into Monaco unless the Germans made a stand there, but the battle was going on right outside the door and my companion and I made our jeep dash over the frontier through an artillery barrage directed at some last-ditch Germans.

The baccarat seemed to be flourishing as it was during my last prewar visit and I swear—it may have been only an illusion—that I recognized some of the same players at the tables. Roulette had been stopped after the best customers—handsome German women spies, uniformed Germans and plain clothes Gestapo—had cleared out one night recently.

Virtually all of Monaco is intact including the famous Hydrographic Institute (museum of ocean lore) founded by the first Prince of Monaco, and the Hotel de Paris, known to many Riviera tourists.

We received probably the swankiest reception given "liberators" so far when elegantly dressed dowagers, countesses and marchionesses planted kisses on our cheeks and broached wine for us.

CORN ON THE COB

From Ottawa Journal

One of our fellows has written a pretty piece extolling corn-on-the-cob as a table delicacy. "There is a food whose goodness beggars description," says he.

"Corn on the cob! Mere mention of the phrase conjures up memories that set the salivary glands functioning in hopeful expectation; memories of tender, golden kernels on a cob almost too hot to hold in the fingers. Almost, but not quite. A dash of salt and a pat of the sweet, rich butter for which the Ottawa Valley is famous and then a feast to please the veriest of gourmets. A food fit for the gods, which all mortals may enjoy, it is truly something apart."

Unfortunately so far this year, due to the heat or the dry weather we suppose, the corn served to us has been disappointingly tasteless and tough. But we can enjoy our colleagues "memories."

WINNER LOSER IN QUEBEC

From Ottawa Citizen

Final tabulation of the Quebec vote reveals that the Union Nationale Party obtained 47 out of 90 seats (one was deferred) with 37.3 per cent of the popular vote. The Liberals obtained 37 seats with 39.9 per cent of the vote. In actual votes cast, Mr. Duplessis is the Prime Minister on the strength of approximately 484,000 votes, and Mr. Godbout has to resign despite the fact that he received 517,000 votes.

There is only one answer to this distortion of public opinion. It is the adoption of proportional representation. In the Alberta election there are two multi-member constituencies whose representatives were elected under P.R. They are Calgary and Edmonton. In these two ridings 10 candidates were elected. The total vote cast was 77,143. Social Crediters received about 33,000 of these votes, or 42 per cent. Four Social Crediters were elected, which is 40 per cent of the 10 seats contested, or representation in almost exact proportion to votes received.

Nearly all men are sincere. So is Nature, but it is sincere in different ways every season.

ORIGIN OF 'QUARTIER LATIN'

From Christian Science Monitor
Countless artists in the world now also long to return to Paris' Left Bank or Quartier Latin (so named under Cardinal Richelieu when all in and around it spoke Latin), harboring Montparnasse with its famous aggregation of studios and art schools. And to paint the winding streets and maisons on la Butte de Montmartre on the other side of the city.

THEY MISTOOK THE HOUSE

From Ottawa Citizen

"Jap Generals in Doghouse," says a headline. They are no doubt the same generals who in late 1941 were confidently boasting that they would dictate the peace in the White House.

GIBRALTAR STRONG AS GIBRALTAR

From New York Sun

After four years Gibraltar is lifting its curfew, forced by the war. For a time the position of that fortress caused concern, but it now appears strong as the rock of Gibraltar.

PILLOWS OF 1884

From Hamilton Spectator's
Sixty Years Ago Column
Hygienic pillows are now in vogue. Three form a full equipment for a bed, of which one is filled with hops, a second with pine needles and a third with marine moss. They are believed to cure sleeplessness and nervous disorders.

Conference Result May Be Big Jump In Pacific Shipping

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
QUEBEC (CP)—A sharp increase in shipping activity on the Pacific coast—both naval and merchant—is expected to be one of the immediate results of the Quebec victory conference of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt.

Transfer of British and Canadian warships from Atlantic and European wars to the Pacific and a vast upsurge in the flow of men and munitions to the Far East as the campaign against Japan develops will mean much new business for United States and Canadian ports.

Since the war in Europe began such ports as Halifax and New York have been booming. The defeat of Germany and full emphasis on the Pacific war will bring similar conditions to harbors like San Francisco, Seattle, Vancouver, and probably Prince Rupert.

While British Columbia ports are too far north to feel the full effect of war needs in the south west Pacific, a step-up in the tempo through the entire Pacific zone is certain to spread at least in part to the Canadian harbors.

Emphasis has been placed at the Quebec conference on the huge fleets needed to keep armies in the Pacific supplied. Lord Leathers, British Minister of War Transport, came here with Mr. Churchill, and Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the U.S. War Shipping Board, is expected momentarily.

But aside from the merchant shipping which these men control, British and U.S. naval strength in the Pacific will be jumped up immensely once Germany is defeated.

U.B.C.M. Elects Vancouver Alderman

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — Ald. John Bennett of Vancouver will serve the next year as president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. He was chosen for the post in the elections late Wednesday at the annual convention here. He had been chairman of the resolutions committee during the convention.

Mayor N. C. Stubbs of Nelson was elected first vice-president and Mayor W. C. Hamilton of Port Alberni second vice-president. The executive will be Ald. O. L. Jones, Kelowna; Reeve J. T. Brown, Surrey; Reeve A. C. Hope, Langley; Reeve R. M. Grauer, Richmond; Ald. C. Jones, Vancouver; Mayor W. Mott, New Westminster; Mayor G. R. Williams, Kamloops, and Mayor John E. Gordon, Rossland.

Commissioner A. D. McRae, Mission, was elected village representative to the executive. Harry Sullivan of New Westminster was named solicitor and R. R. F. Sewell of Victoria, secretary.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

Opposition to the provincial government taking over public utilities was voiced with the adoption of a Nelson resolution that the "B.C. government be requested to refrain from expropriation of municipally-owned or operated public utilities without previous conference with the municipalities concerned."

Benefits to citizens derived from profits from publicly-owned utilities were especially evident in Courtenay. Mayor M. S. Stephens of that town remarked, "Courtenay had operated its own electric plant for 20 years and had no wish to be deprived of the benefits of its operation."

A 1943 resolution from the Kootenay Municipality Association urging the framing of a

Oak Bay Schools Buy Most War Stamps

Schoolchildren of Oak Bay led all others on Vancouver Island in the purchase of War Savings Stamps last term, it was revealed in figures released by the war finance committee here today.

During last term on a per capita basis each child in Oak Bay schools purchased $5.52 worth of War Savings Stamps. The high figure for the province was Atlin, with a per capita purchase per child of $12.63.

Victoria schoolchildren purchased $3.61 worth of stamps each; Nanaimo, $3.51; Port Alberni, $3.47.

Proposed set-up of a provincial planning commission of 25 members was described by Commissioner W. Beamish of Burnaby.

berni and West Coast, $3.35; Saanich-Gulf Islands, $3.30; Courtenay, $2.65; Esquimalt, $1.50; and Courtenay-Comox, $1.50.

It is estimated that 40 per cent of War Savings Stamps sales in B.C. and Yukon comes from schoolchildren. The average per pupil investment in the province last term was $3.32, as compared with Ontario's reported $2.96, Manitoba's $2.60, and Prince Edward Island's $1.47.

School committees are now making plans for the 1944-45 term to better the record $330,678 that was invested in War Savings Stamps last term. During the same period, $77,000 was invested in Victory Bonds through the schools.

The objective for the coming year will be on the basis of two stamps per pupil per month, which will provide an over-all war

Shipyard Unions Consider Merger

A move to amalgamate boiler makers, machinists and dockyard and shipyard workers unions into one big Canadian Congress of Labor organization was launched at a meeting in the Boilermakers' Hall Wednesday night.

During the discussion it was shown that the interests of each were identical and that the form of industrial organization would be preferable to the present set-up of craft organizations. A great deal of preliminary work savings objective of $500,000 by June.

was done and an agenda setting forth the terms of amalgamation was drawn up for submission to all the members involved.

The convention of the Shipyard General Workers' Federation, which will be held in Victoria early next month, will be asked to ratify the amalgamation should it become acceptable to the members in Victoria.

Delegates to the federation convention, who had previously been chosen by the members of their locals, were interested listeners and took part in the discussions.

Again: Fashion News Arrives From Paris

"Parisienne have adapted their clothes to their changed mode of living—even for the wealthy the bicycle is the current means of transportation."

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
Victoria Times Correspondent.
One of the first newspaperwomen to enter Paris with the Allied armies.

PARIS—Parisian women never looked so attractive and chic as they do today. Their smartness has a vital, buoyant quality which strikes one immediately. The trained observer also notes extreme refinement in detail which is the hallmark of real elegance. Furthermore, Parisienne have adapted their clothes to their changed mode of living—even for the wealthy the bicycle is the current means of transportation—and they have managed to combine practical considerations with allure.

Newcomers soon learn this was their way of waging a war of resistance against the hated enemy, just as wearing bright colors be-length and exaggeratedly high platform-soled sandals, often of bright colors.

CURVES UNDERLINED

She wears voluminous hats with elaborately draped high-sloping crown and three-inch deep solid brim, usually off-the-face style. Some hats are buried underneath masses of flowers and yards of veiling. There are lots of intricately updraped turbans in colorful prints. Right now many women go hatless as well as stockings, in which case they are impeccably coiffed.

Current styles all underline natural curves with pinched-in waistlines rounded high. Sloping rounded shoulders have completely superseded the pre-war squared line. A leading creator explained this trend was made possible and becoming because food shortage plus extra exercise achieved a universal streamlined silhouette.

Suits follow the same trend, with jackets either fingertip or wrist length, generously trimmed with passementerie braid or deftly worked oversize patch pockets. Afternoon dresses show a wealth of detail work, usually fine shirring from bust to hipline or intricate embroidery. Coats are full hanging, with deep pleats from the shoulders, or flared pleated skirts attached to form-fitted tops. Sleeves are full, sometimes draped in deep horizontal folds from shoulder to wrist.

There was never a hint of military styles during the entire occupation, but several leading stylists think the uniforms of the armies of liberation may influence the new fall fashions—and the olive drab of our army might well become the leading color.

B.C. Groups Win W.C.T.U. Awards

At the 61st annual convention of the W.C.T.U. being held in Vancouver, two national awards were won by B.C.

Mrs. J. Lade, president, presented the efficiency prize for the greatest number of points to Miss Grace Fulton, which were earned by her union, Unecda Young Women. Another award was made to a Loyal Temperance Legion group for raising the greatest amount for missions. Reports given were League of Nations, scientific temperance instruction, Sunday school work, university project, film work and Youth Temperance Council.

Rev. R. Moses took the communion service, assisted by Rev. A. C. Bingham of the Baptist Church and George Scott.

Mrs. Benson presided at a meeting of the W.A. of Belmont Avenue United Church, when plans were made for a tea and sale of work to be held Oct. 20 at 3.

came a question of morale. The predominance of color was unexpected to anyone knowing Paris in pre-war days, when sophisticated black was synonymous with chic.

Women further defied the Germans by wearing the red, white and blue of the tri-color—verbotten during the years of occupation—as well as the victory V in their dress and accessories.

Green, on the other hand, was strictly tabu as too evocative of the hateful uniforms of the army of occupation.

Fullness is the leit motif of current Paris styles. While creators necessarily were restricted to a certain yardage, they invariably managed to cheat the Germans in this as in so many other ways. J. V. Johnson Named On Tourist Committee

The Pacific North West Trade Association is going ahead with plans to raise a $1,600,000 fund to advertise the tourist attractions of the Pacific North West area from Oregon to Alaska. J. V. Johnson, Chamber of Commerce representative to the association, said Wednesday on his return from Bellingham, Wash., where a two-day conference was held.

Mr. Johnson has been named a member of the special committee appointed to investigate the practicability of raising such a sum of money, and once this is determined, to go ahead and raise the fund. S. W. Thurston of Seattle is chairman of the committee.

Other members, Mr. Johnson said, are E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and commerce for B.C.; Leo Sweeney, president, Vancouver Tourist Association; R. E. Gilley, New Westminster; H. Peyton, Spokane; S. G. Griggs, Tacoma; L. R. Wallace, Bellingham, and G. E. Kreiger, Everett. Stanley McKeen, president of the Trade Association, is an ex officio member.

TOURIST INDUSTRY VALUABLE

The first day of the conference, Mr. Johnson said, was taken up with a discussion of the tourist fund and the need for starting it right away so that it would be ready for the postwar period. Practically everyone speaking to the motion, he said, was strongly in favor of it because they realized the tourist industry in this area is a large and important one.

The idea of the fund originated with Victoria members of the association, Mr. Johnson said and it took three meetings of the association before the idea took hold and they decided to do something about it.

After the money has been raised, the committee, of which he is a member, will have completed its job, Mr. Johnson said, and another committee would then be appointed to administer it.

At the second day of the conference, Dewey Bullock spoke for two hours on a highway from northern B.C. to Whitehorse and a committee was set up to investigate the matter and report to the next meeting of the association.

New committee divisions were set up on immigration and mining. The foreign trade committee, with subdivisions on domestic trade, international customs regulations and forest products reported to the meeting, as did the fisheries and highway committees.

Mr. Johnson expressed the opinion that it had been an exceptionally good meeting of the association, attended by approximately 80 delegates. The next meeting will be held in December in Seattle.

George I. Warren, manager of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, also attended the meeting.

Chest Campaign Objective $90,000

Organization of workers and the plans of campaign for the $90,000 Community Chest drive which starts next Monday, are well under way, Frank Paulding, campaign director, said today.

This year's objective is $15,000 over last year's total, but Mr. Paulding pointed out that Victoria still has one of the lowest per capita allotment for community chest purposes of any city on the North American continent. For example, Vancouver's objective works out to $1.65 contribution per person in Vancouver, whereas Victoria's works out to only $1.10 per person.

They have 450 workers signed up to carry on the campaign now, Mr. Paulding said, and 200 more are needed if it is to go over the top.

There is also a need for more volunteer office workers, he said, both stenographers and people to sort cards.

The organization is divided into seven divisions, and each division has its own allotment that must be raised. G. H. Stevens is in charge of the special names division, which has an allotment of $47,600. They have been on the job collecting since a week ago Tuesday and should be almost finished their work by the time the main campaign starts, Mr. Paulding said.

Division B, the business section, under Major G. A. Yardley, is in need of canvassers. This division is shortest of help to canvass the downtown section, he said. Their objective is $7,500.

The residential section with an objective of $21,000 under Miss Sara Spencer has held one meeting and will hold a workers' meeting on Friday. A few more canvassers could be used here also.

The commercial section under G. H. Walton, objective $4,000, public services under W. T. Straith, and hotels, under S. W. Holmes, objective $1,000, are all well organized, Mr. Paulding reported.

The industrial section under Harold Duncan is a new section and its organization is just getting started. The objective here is $5,000.

Whooping Cough Deadly, Is Warning

TORONTO—If parents showed the same concern for the protection of their children against whooping cough as they do to safeguard them from infantile paralysis, hundreds of babies would be saved from early graves, the Health League of Canada said today. The League urged widespread response to the message of the current National Immunization Week, which it is sponsoring in support of public health department programs.

Whooping cough is not the comparatively harmless childhood disease which many parents still believe it to be, the Health League warned. Every year it takes the lives of many young children in Canada. Among those who recover it often results in serious complications which affect health in later years.

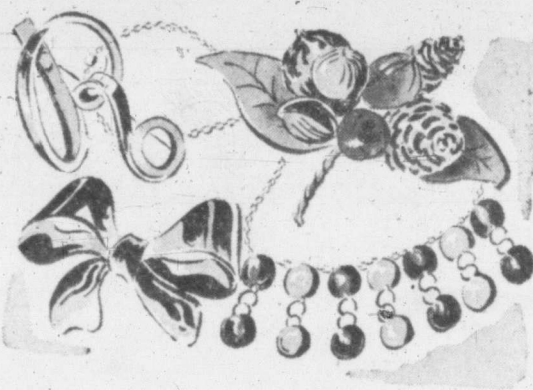

A large measure of protection against whooping cough is given by pertussis vaccine, and because of recent medical discoveries, children now may be protected against both whooping cough and diphtheria—another deadly disease—at the same time, it was pointed out.

Large Crowd Happy As Favorites Win

By PETE SALLAWAY

With the second largest crowd of the meeting on hand, favorites came down in four out of the seven heats at the Willows track Wednesday to keep the 4,000-odd punters in a happy mood. Longest price of the afternoon was returned by Maid of Broxa, winner of the Esquimalt Handicap at a little better than 5 to 1. Betting was brisk and showed a substantial increase over the corresponding day last season.

S. W. Randall, director of the Colwood Park Association, announced yesterday that next Wednesday will be charity day, with the entire gate receipts to be turned over to charity. As several requests have been received by the association for a charity day the money will be divided between the various applicants. As an added attraction Mitchell and Duncan have presented a handsome cup to be awarded to the jockey aboard the winning thoroughbred in the handicap that day.

In taking the handicap at six furlongs and 30 yards Ab Forsham's seven-year-old mare, Maid of Broxa, treated the fans to a real burst of speed in the final drive. Running fifth, well back of the pace at the half and fourth entering the stretch, the George Addison-trained bangtail came on fast to overtake Sahara Chief and Perfect Prince in the final eighth. With a five-horse field the public spread their money pretty well over the board, although Hi-Rhythm went to the post an odds-on choice only to run fourth. Jockey Jimmy Sive- Wright rode the winner.

Opening event saw Special Lady open up a comfortable lead on the field from the break out of the gate and never look back to pay off at $10.35, $5.20 and $4.25 across the board. Red Chalk, co-favorite with Rio Rose, ran second and Spanish Ball third.

Second choice Best Dressed copped the second, nipping the pacesetter Proud Indian in the stretch by a length. Cave Boy took third. The daily double, Special Lady to Best Dressed, was worth $20.60.

TWO EASY WINS

Mrs. Walter Geoghegan's three-year-old filly, Laura G, ran like a good thing in the third to flash home six lengths on top. Much of the best of the field of maidens she led from the gate to wire. Two outsiders, Jeff Himself and Rusty Beau, took the place and show money.

Starting at less than 50 cents on the dollar, the shortest-priced favorite to date, Pilgrim's Pride, made a walk of the field in the fourth event over one mile and one-sixteenth. Taking command at the three-quarter pole the grey gelding, an oddity on the track, finished five lengths on top of Little Gloomy, with Little Ruler third. The winner paid a mere $2.95.

Trip Over showed his liking for Willows strip by capturing the sixth for his second straight win of the meeting. The gelding, owned by Evans and McLeod, won his first out last Saturday. The ever-popular Pandimit ran a good race to take second with Just Once third.

The aged Broderick, always a strong contender at the Willows, came into his own in the seventh to lift the winner's share of the purse by a neck from Penicuk, the pacesetter, which finished second. The favored Brilliant Help took third. The one-two bet was worth $31.65.

Jimmy Silverright took the riding honors for the afternoon, with two winning mounts. Other winners were handled by Billy Scourm, R. McKenzie, Phil Sporri, Frankie Wilbourn and Alex Haller.

Connie Mack Likes Tigers for Pennant

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Connie Mack thinks the Detroit Tigers are the best bet to win the American League.

Speaking at a Shrine Club luncheon Wednesday he said, "The Tigers have a real chance to win, being aided by their outstanding pitchers, Dizzy Trout and Hal Newhouser.

"A TRIP through the Gillette factory showed me why I always get clean, quick shaves with Blue Gillette Blades. I saw steel hardened in automatically-controlled electric furnaces... saw the blades sharpened in grinding machines weighing several tons—yet so precise that they are adjustable to 1/10,000 of an inch. So my advice to any man who wants to enjoy shaving is to use Blue Gillette Blades."

Enlistments Ruin Famed Oshawa Squad

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO (CP)—It's beginning to look as though those opposition junior hockey teams which have been crying: "Get Oshawa Generals" these many years, may have their hopes realized this winter as the result of a mass flight of enlistments.

The proud Generals, last winter's Memorial Cup champions and a power in the junior hockey realm the past seven years, will have few familiar faces when they hit the ice for their first practice session. Don Batten, Bobby Love, Floyd Curry and Ken Smith all are in the navy; Bill Barker has just signed himself into sailor-blue "tiddleys," Bill Ezinicki is in the R.C.A.F. and Johnny Chenier, Bob Dawes and Bobby Porter have joined the army.

Vancouver Neons Win 11-Inning Struggle

TORONTO (CP)—Vancouver Neons, British Columbia fastball champions, Wednesday night were extended two extra innings before defeating Toronto Croftons, 4 to 1, in an exhibition game here. The coast team is en route to Cleveland to compete in the United States women's national playdowns.

The game was featured by a pitching duel between Jean Melen of Vancouver and Alma Wilson, one of Toronto's top-notch hurriers. Croftons outlived the visitors 14 to 6, and Alma had 19 strikeouts compared to 10 for Jean.

The big break came in the 11th inning, after Croftons had scored one run in the sixth and Neons one in the eighth. Grace Allman was passed and Wyn Meyers beat out a bunt. Rita Bell forced the runner at second and then stole second. Faye Burnham attempted a bunt and was safe on first as a result of an overthrow on which both runners scored.

She made third on the play and carried in the final run on an infield out.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Vancouver	4	6	1
Croftons	1	14	2

Batteries—Jean Melen and Ruth Wilson; Alma Wilson and Rene Adams.

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Army and Navy Pats defeated Walk-Rites 4 to 2 in the third game of the first best-of-five city senior women's fastball league championship series Wednesday night. The series stand 2 to 1 in favor of Walk-Rites, who won the first two games.

Cards Falter Badly To Drop Two Games

American League world series stock gained a few points today as the four idle contenders analyzed the fate of St. Louis Cardinals who had lost their first season series since 1940 and dropped 11 of their last 15 games.

Pittsburgh became the first club in four years to beat the Cards over a season's play when they swept another double-header last night, 7 to 3 and 10 to 5, for a 12 to 10 edge in games. The Red Birds haven't beaten the Pirates in their last 10 meetings, a tie being their best effort.

Frankie Frish has had the Pirates rolling at a .763 clip since Aug. 9 and at the .600 season mark for the first time as the Cards dipped below .700.

The National League leaders were having pitching trouble with Harry Brecheen failing to go the route in the opener and Max Lanier suffering his fifth successive defeat in the second. Rip Sewell and Xaxier Rescigno took credit for the Pirate victories.

Rainy weather in Philadelphia robbed the American League of its only scheduled action, pushing back until tonight a tilt between the leading Yankees and the Athletics. Once again, idle Detroit, a half game back, had a chance to move in front by .0008 if New York should lose.

Chicago clung to fourth place in the National by defeating Cincinnati, 3 to 2, in the second game of a double-header, on Frank Secory's three-run homer after Harry Gumbert had turned them back in the opener, 4 to 1. Philadelphia at New York and Boston at Brooklyn double-headers were rained out.

COAST LEAGUE
Portland Beavers' narrow lead in the battle for the Coast Baseball League's second position shrank to one game last night as the Beavers lost a close 2 to 1 decision to Oakland while third place San Francisco was defeating St. Paul, 6 to 4.

Oakland rallied in the ninth inning to score twice and nose out the Beavers for the second straight time. The game was and temporary managing-director Red Dutton, puts his own candidate in the field. Mike suggests the governors might elect Miss Dorothy Pinard, the league secretary, "who is quite capable of directing operations."

INCIDENTALLY
Perhaps the next thing in ring circles will be a genuine "white hope" from the great frozen white spaces of the far north.

Jack Peppin, a former Winnipegger and fight manager, writes Harry (Calgary Alberta) Scott about a heavyweight find he uncovered at Fort Nelson, B.C. The newcomer is a six-foot-three young Irish giant, schooled in the rough-and-tumble Alaska highway battle rules, and Peppin thinks he has the stuff to go far in the ring.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

OFTEN DESCRIBED as the "revolutionizer" of modern wrestling, Gus Sonnenberg has taken the final count. The former college football star, who introduced gridiron tactics into the mat game, and became a sensation overnight, was a familiar figure in Victoria around 14 years ago when he came here to wrestle such fellows as Bob Kruse and Tom Alley while holder of the world heavyweight championship.

SONNENBERG's entrance into the wrestling racket was as big a surprise to Gus as to the thousands of fans who patronized the sport in United States and Canada in the early 1930s. Attending a mat match one evening between a couple of the old-time grunts and groaners who were drawing a lot of criticism from the customers for their efforts Sonnenberg, occupying a ringside seat with a number of his college pals, was particularly critical in his remarks on the efforts of the pachyderms. The promoter finally became so riled at Sonnenberg that he invited him to step into the ring and see if he could do any better. Placed on the spot Gus agreed to appear on the next card and, knowing nothing about the finer points of wrestling, decided to put his football knowledge to use and finally flattened his opponent with a flying tackle.

SONNENBERG's performance went over so big with the crowd that the wrestling trust recognized his value as a gate attraction. They took the 200-pound blockbuster in hand and, after teaching him some of the better-known holds, started him off on a tour of the circuit. Sonnenberg's rough-house style attracted sell-out crowds and in 1929 "Dynamite Gus" as he was popularly known reached the top when he threw Ed (Strangler) Lewis to win the heavyweight championship. Sonnenberg didn't last long as a headliner but he drew bigger average houses during his heyday than anyone else. He lost the championship to Ed (Don) George, another former college football great in 1931. That same year Lewis came back into the picture by tossing George to regain the so-called world title.

SONNENBERG introduced the flying tackle and, although many other wrestlers adopted a so-called tackle none were able to develop it to the same degree as its originator. Sonnenberg hit opponents solidly with his head while all the other grapplers elected to use their shoulders. Built like an ape, Sonnenberg could launch himself in a tackle with terrific power and quite often, if he missed an opponent, would continue on through the ropes into the laps of the ringside spectators. Sonnenberg was the headliner in a sport that enjoyed tremendous success over a 10-year period but in recent years he has been another of those forgotten men of sport.

PROPOSED series between the Navy, winners of the local baseball championship, and Norvans, champions of the Vancouver League, will be strictly exhibition. There will be no B.C. championship at stake as service clubs are not permitted to participate in playoffs for any provincial sport titles. Whether or not the clubs will return here for two games still is in doubt. The games will not be played on a Sunday as was first suggested but it is possible two exhibitions will be staged at the local park a week Saturday.

Fastball Results

In fastball games played Wednesday night, Sports Club girls defeated the Hudson's Bay 10 to 3 to enter the Jack Taylor Memorial Cup final against the Adverts, while K.V.'s boys won from the New Method Laundry 10 to 5 in a Peden Cup engagement. Fastball season is scheduled to close this week.

Organizations Back Civic V-Day Plans

Enthusiastic support of the civic V-Day committee's tentative plans for observation of the armistice in Europe, when it comes, was voiced by delegates to a special meeting of the committee in the City Hall Wednesday afternoon.

Attending were representatives of the I.O.F.E., Local Council of Women, P.E.O., Parent-Teacher Associations, Canadian Club and the Victoria Ministerial Association.

Decision was reached to ask City Council approval of the move to extend the committee to include all municipalities of Greater Victoria.

Information from heads of the Navy, Army and Air Force here indicated willingness to co-operate in ceremonies to the limit of their abilities.

Enthusiasm was voiced over plans for the proposed thanksgiving service in Beacon Hill Park in which the Ministerial Association will assist and at which a veteran will deliver the featured address.

Tentative arrangements call for a parade, with bands and service personnel from the Armistice to Beacon Hill Park, but are such that the main part of the ceremony will be conducted in the Armistice if the weather is unsuitable for outdoor activity.

Asks Mercy Temper Justice and Terms Be Made Concurrent

Patrick J. Mandell, who told the court he was an ex-Imperial Army officer with the rank of major, today pleaded for reduction of sentence to the Court of Appeal on two convictions of attempting to secure money by false pretences and one of impersonating an R.C.A.F. officer.

The prisoner, who appeared in person with five others at today's session, was sentenced by Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson, Vancouver, to nine months on the first false pretence charge, one year on the second and one year on the charge of impersonating an officer. Sentences were made consecutive.

In an eloquent plea, Mandell said he had obtained the first money to cover room rent, had secured the second amount, $125, and used it and had claimed to be an air force officer while under the influence of liquor.

He was, he said, a veteran of two wars and in ill health. "I beg for clemency so that mercy may temper justice," he said as he appealed to have his sentences made concurrent. "I am heartily penitent," he told the court.

The prisoner submitted testimonials for war loan services and stoutly denied he had donned an air force uniform or presented himself as an air force officer to secure credit.

R. A. Wootton, who represented the crown respondent in each case, noted illness could not be a factor in the case.

LOW OFFENSE
"It is a pretty low offense," counsel added, "to represent oneself as an officer in the forces to gain credit." He also noted Mandell had a previous record and had had previous opportunities to make restitution but had failed to take them.

Judgment was reserved to this afternoon.

Cameron H. Good, nervous and bewildered, found himself in the wrong court with an appeal against conviction by Police Magistrate Arthur Rankin, Kamloops, and sentence to nine months plus a $200 fine, on a charge of illegally possessing morphine.

The case had been tried in such a way, Acting Chief Justice Gordon Sloan said, that appeal lay to the County Court. The Court of Appeal had no jurisdiction, he said, dismissing the appeal.

Peter J. Montan, sentenced to two years by Magistrate H. S. Wood, Vancouver, on a charge of stealing $80 from a woman in a doctor's office, failed in his appeal from conviction. His sentence was reviewed later by the court and decision was scheduled this afternoon.

Douglas H. Clare, appealing sentence of four years imposed by Magistrate R. A. Sargent, North Vancouver, for breaking and entering by night a home, stealing a refrigerator, radio and gramophone records, protested the severity of his terms on the grounds an accomplice had been given suspended sentence and two others involved in the robbery had not been charged.

The court noted the trial magistrate's report the accomplice was a helpless cripple, suggested Clare was the ring leader, but decided to consider the sentence before delivering judgment.

SENTENCE CUT

Ralph Golar, slim, dark, quiet-spoken, who protested his innocence on a charge of beating a colored woman, failed in his appeal from conviction. His sentence by W. W. B. McInnes, Vancouver, was reduced on representations of the Attorney-General from two years to six months, the statutory limit, with the acting chief justice noting it was lenient in view of the offence.

Thomas Rublitz, sentenced to six months by Magistrate Wood on a charge of retaining stolen tires, finished up with three months more than his original term as the court dismissed his appeal and dated sentence from today. Rublitz sought to tell an involved story of borrowing a car in which the tires were found, but was told he should have presented that evidence at his trial.

"I'll be doing three months extra," accused said as judgment was delivered. "That's the law," Mr. Justice Sloan replied.

D. R. Tweedy, who has served his 90 days' hard labor sentence imposed by Magistrate William Moreley, Vernon, following conviction on a fraud charge, was given an extension of time to file appeal books in his legal fight to vindicate himself.

Hearing of the Langthorne and Wood appeals, scheduled in person today, was adjourned to Thursday next with announcement the prisoners had engaged counsel.

Opening meeting of the Dickens Fellowship for the 1944-45 season will be held in the clubrooms, 301 Union Building Monday night at 8. The program for the season will be discussed and a Dickensian reading will be given by the president, Capt. Wilfred Ord.

War May Rob Paris Title Of World's Fashion Centre

Paris, undoubtedly, will again be the gay, scintillating, effervescent, intriguing capital of prewar brilliance, but will she once more become the unquestioned apex of the world for fashion?

Herbert Dunhill, president of Alfred Dunhill Ltd. of London, who knows Paris like a book and who was among the horde of refugees crowding the southbound highways out of the French capital in the tragic days of June, 1940, seeking a haven from the onrushing Nazis, reflects doubt.

Mr. Dunhill arrived in town Wednesday with his wife from Toronto, is at the Empress Hotel, and plans to spend the winter in Victoria, the climate of which he considers equal that of the Riviera.

Mr. Dunhill believes Paris, however, will continue to be the magnet of the trans-Channel and trans-ocean traveler.

GRAVITATED TO U.S.
When Paris fell, New York assumed the role of the world's fashion centre, claims Mr. Dunhill, because most of the noted fashion designers gravitated there after the collapse of France. Some of them went to London, but it was not long before New York became the fashion leader. They are now established in New York and it would be difficult for Paris to lure them back.

Current Price May Be Fixed On Furniture

By ANN STEVICK

WASHINGTON—When you get ready to restock the house with new supplies of household goods, and prewar full-fledged furniture or mattresses, after they become more plentiful, prices should be very close to what you've been paying.

There's a difference between these items and the new vacuum cleaners, lawn mowers and electrical appliances which will cost a good deal more than prewar prices. Furniture, mattresses and household cloth items were made throughout the war, with various limitations on quantity, type, or materials. Therefore, when manufacturers turn over from military to civilian work, or from limited production to full-time, they'll be expected to meet going prices.

That means furniture should cost you no more than present furniture, which has been given a general five per cent increase. Clothing and household textile wares will get only the price rises already handed out.

ODDS AND ENDS

You'll probably see lots of Concord grapes in your market for a few weeks. There's no price control on these grapes for home eating for the time being, while prices on wine grapes have been pushed down. . . . Over-all supply of anti-freeze for next winter looks good, according to War Production Board estimates, but you may not be able to get special types you'd like.

THIS WAR—FOUR YEARS AGO
Sept. 14, 1940—Eighteen German raiders shot down over United Kingdom. Italian forces invading Egypt reached Sollum. R.A.F. attacked German shipping. U.S. Congress approved conscription bill requiring registration of some 16,500,000 men from 21 to 35 years of age.

28 Years Ago Today—In 1916 B.C. Liberals First Elected

T. D. Pattullo, longer in public office of B.C. than any other living man, today looked back to Sept. 14, 1916—28 years ago—when the province elected its first Liberal administration and he started the long legislative career that has made him one of the outstanding provincial politicians in Canada.

Only once since then were the Conservatives returned—in 1928 under the late Dr. S. F. Tolmie. There has been a coalition of Liberals and Conservatives since 1941, when Mr. Pattullo left office to become a private member of the House, representing Prince Rupert, where he was first elected 28 years ago today.

The Liberals that memorable day, in the midst of the first World War, soundly beat the government of Premier W. J. Bowser, who died when he was again running for office at the time of the general election of 1933, when Mr. Pattullo was first elected Premier.

So many of the famous old political figures of the day have gone that Mr. Pattullo looks back with sadness and a certain amount of nostalgia to that time, when British Columbia politics were boisterous and no punches were pulled. Sir Richard McBride at the time was agent-general in London after being Premier for many years. He resigned in May of 1917 and died a few months later before he could return to Canada.

It was the late Harlan Carey Brewster who took office as the first Liberal Premier of British Columbia, but he died the following year, and the late John Oliver succeeded him. First Liberal cabinet was composed of the late Hon. M. A. Macdonald, Attorney-General, who later became chief justice; Hon. J. D. MacLean, who succeeded to the premiership on the death of Mr. Oliver, was Provincial Secretary; Mr. Pattullo became Minister of Lands; Ralph Smith, Minister of Finance; Hon. J. H. King, now in the Canadian Senate, was Minister of Public Works; Mr. Oliver was Minister of Agriculture; the late Hon. William Sloan, father of acting Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, was Minister of Mines. When Mr. Smith died Mr. Brewster took over the finance portfolio until John Hart's appointment was ratified in that position by the public at a by-election.

Mr. Pattullo is today the only man elected to the House 28 years ago, who has been a member ever since. Mr. Hart, while elected at the same time, was out of office from 1924 to 1933.

Victoria City, that day in 1916, returned Mr. Hart, Henry Hall, now police court magistrate; the late George Bell and Mr. Brewster.

Vancouver's members were M. A. Macdonald, Ralph Smith, J. W. deB. Farris, now in the Canadian Senate; Dr. J. W. McIntosh, J. S. Cowper and Pat Donnelly.

Member for Cowichan after the election was William Henry Hayward; "Jimmy" Jones, who became Finance Minister in the Tolmie government was elected for South Okanagan; Gerry McGeer, later Mayor of Vancouver and member of the House of Commons, was the member for Richmond; Alex Manson, now on the Supreme Court, was elected for Omineca; F. A. Pauline, who later became agent-general in London was member for Saanich; Harry Pooley, following in the footsteps of his father, became Esquimalt's member; "Billy" Sloan represented Nanaimo.

Mr. Pattullo, now nearing his 72nd birthday, looks back with pleasure, as well as sadness, to those days, for they were good days, he says. He is justly proud of his fine record of public service—12 years as Minister of Lands, five years as Leader of the Opposition; eight years as Premier and the last three years as private member.

On this, the Liberals' birthday in B.C., their old chief says he envies the youth of today—for "the opportunities for service are greater than ever and I have no doubt that the oncoming generation will meet their responsibilities effectively and with credit to themselves. Just to think of the possibilities of the future opens so broad a vista as to stagger the imagination."

Maitland Fears C.C.F. Would Control Workers

If the C.C.F. ever attains power in B.C. it will not only take over revenue producing industries, as threatened by their leader, Harold Winch, but "120,000 workers and control them as well," Attorney-General R. L. Maitland said in a Wednesday evening address.

Mr. Maitland, leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in British Columbia, told in detail of the record of the coalition government since it took office, nearly three years ago—increases in old age and mothers' pensions; 1,000,000 acres of land set aside for returning veterans; rebate on land taxes to those in the service; reduction in motor licenses; exemption for farmers from taxation on improvements; free text books in the schools; appointment of a commission to study rural electrification; modernization of law respecting minerals.

CHOICE IN B.C.
British Columbians have a choice, Mr. Maitland said—they can safeguard the worker, be fair to capital, maintain prosperity and at the same time individual freedom, and, on the other hand "can turn to the experiment of the inexperienced—listen to the noise of the opportunists—turn to state socialism."

Some people, Mr. Maitland said, are not worried about the C.C.F., which, they say, could never do all the things it plans and promises.

"They can try," the Attorney-General said, "and in trying they can bring chaos and irreparable damage to the orderly progressive prosperity of this province—in one session they could smash our credit, the very lifeblood of the province—they could kill payroll after payroll by erecting a wall against the millions that would otherwise come here—they could kill freedom of choice and individual initiative—they could kill the way of life which has made our Empire great, our Canada great, our way of life which will win this war."

Mr. Maitland said the coalition has not had time to organize and broadcast and talk politics in

B.C. or in adjoining provinces, but it has been doing a job for the people.

People who are willing to bring and to risk their money in development of B.C.'s natural resources may still do so, the Attorney-General said.

"That, we will encourage and welcome, but after this they will do it as operators and not as speculators," he said. "They will pay as high an oil royalty as anywhere in Canada, and for every two miles of oil lands brought into production, two miles will be reserved for the government. If they wish to take up coal they may do so, but the royalty—that is your share—will be higher and they must develop it and not hold it for speculation."

SECURITY
Coalition government policies have been directed to giving a feeling of security to everyone in the province, the Attorney-General said—to every employer and employee.

"Capital must be unafraid—the worker must feel secure," he said.

Facing of postwar problems will be as easy for B.C. as any other province, for B.C.'s credit is as high, if no higher, than any other province in Canada.

"For this I pay great tribute to the Premier, who is also Minister of Finance," Mr. Maitland said.

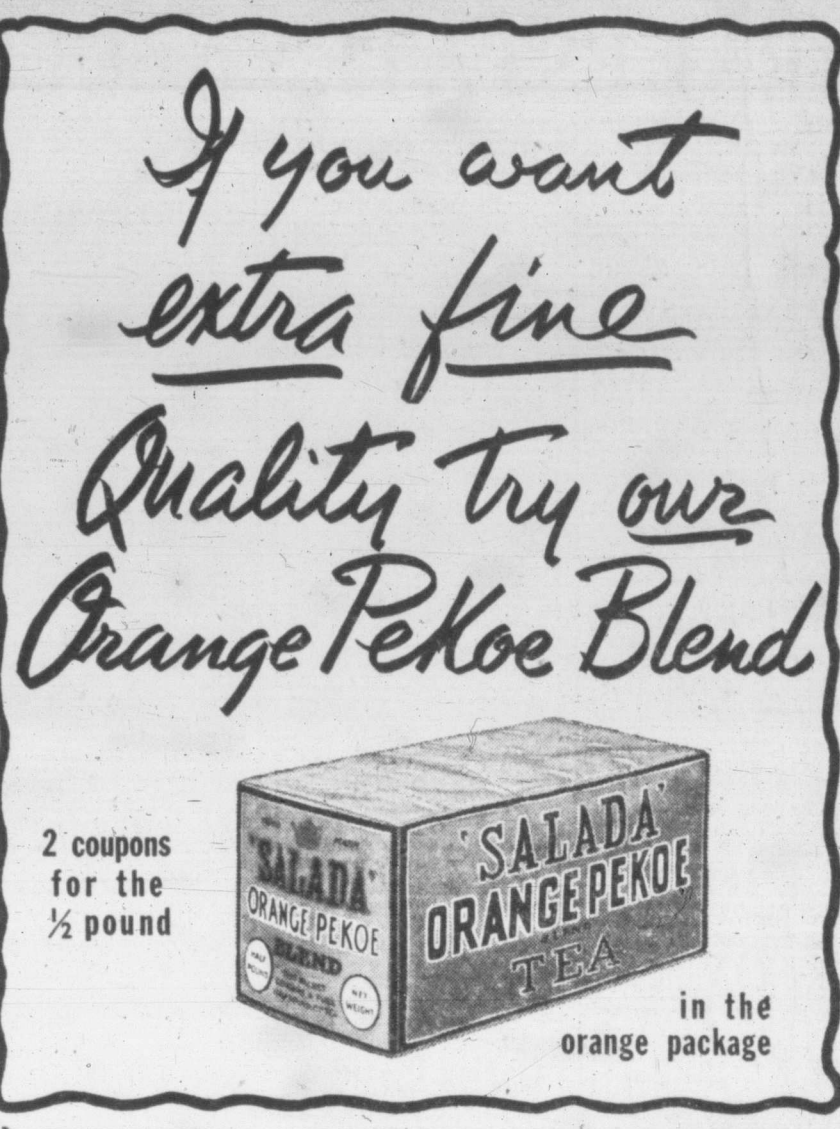

The coalition has been pledged to carry out the policies of the people, Mr. Maitland said, a full contribution to the war effort; planning to meet postwar requirements, maintaining and ever widening B.C.'s standard in social and labor legislation; spending what could be afforded, saving, and keeping the whole administration of public affairs above the selfish interest of any party.

"Those who put party and patronage first are not enthusiastic, and those who are disappointed and dissatisfied discount any measure of success we have attained," Mr. Maitland said. "With these various factions we are not concerned. Public opinion will write our record and all I hope is that the verdict will be that we have done our duty during difficult years. Our task is not easy. I know of no problem of moment which we have not considered and tried to deal with."

Reductions recently made in the amount of tetraethyl lead going into civilian gasoline will save enough lead to produce over 200,000,000 gallons of 100-octane aviation fuel for the armed services.

Undies to Lavender All Included In Our Gifts to Soviet

By ELLA WINTER

MOSCOW—I have just visited the place where supplies are received from the Red Cross, Russian War Relief, Palestinian Relief, the Canadian Aid to Russia Fund and Mrs. Churchill's fund. Seventy-seven cars had arrived at this central warehouse for distribution to liberated areas in the Soviet Union.

In the clothes depot 60 girls in white overalls, young, quick and interested, were doing the sorting. The clothes were in very good condition for the most part. They included boys' blue jeans, sweaters, sneakers, leather jackets, children's frocks, women's dresses and underwear, coats—silk, cotton, wool, rayon.

UNDIES MOST POPULAR

We asked what the most popular garment was. They answered: "Ladies' underwear."

A local board decides who gets what. Refugee families get household kits. The best workers in factories and families of Red Army men usually come first, together with orphans and war cripples.

One Red Army man, returning sick and weary to his village to find his family all killed and his house burned, burst into tears of gratitude when he received a good suit and coat.

Shelves were piled high. One set of navy blue coats had labels from the United Committee of the A.F.L. and C.I.O. There were 30 large medical tents from the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

Some gifts come addressed to individuals, like the special radio for Marshal Timoshenko and a huge overcoat to "the best fighter in (Marshal) Rokossovsky's army." The American Indian Confederation sent Stalin a feathered war bonnet.

EVEN LAVENDER!

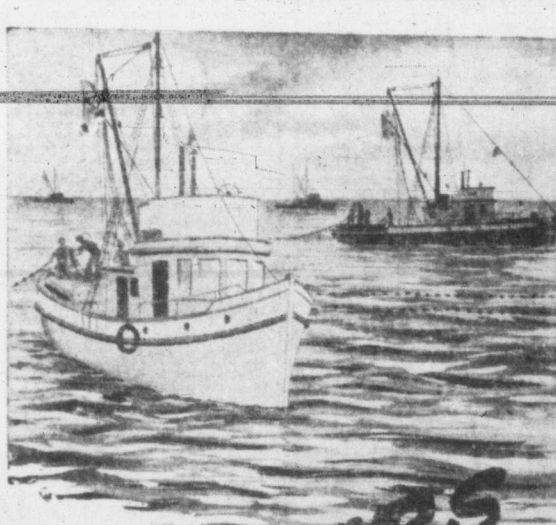

One room was filled with sterilizers, dressings, drugs, X-ray equipment, forceps, clamps, curettes and autoclaves—still the items most needed for the front.

A small bag of lavender bore the inscription "California sweet lavender, compliments of the Al Malaikah Temple, Mystic Shrine, Los Angeles, May 8, 1942." But while dextrose and surgeons' needles are more useful right now, the Russians welcome such touching signs of sympathy.

MEMBERSHIP TEA

Altar Society and C.W.L., Oak Bay sub-division, held their first membership tea of the season. Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. T. C. Rogers, 630 Island Road.

Maurine Rogers and Jeannette Paterson assisted the hostess. Among committee members present were: Mrs. Bullock-Webster, president; Mrs. E. Vernon Thomson, treasurer; Mrs. F. W. Gill, secretary; Mrs. White, vice-president; Mrs. A. S. Minion, vice-president; Mrs. H. G. Chisholm and Mrs. Rennier. Plans were made for an apron sale, to be held at the home of Mrs. John Hart, Fairfield Road, under the convenship of Mrs. H. A. Goward.

One Woman's Day...

By NANCY HODGES

MORE ABOUT PLACE NAMES

MY RECENT ARTICLE on the subject of queer names borne by some English villages evidently evoked nostalgic memories in many breasts, judging by my mail.

One native of Worcestershire, now resident in Oak Bay, recalled having lived in Flyford Flave for some years. And, of course, knew the old organist to whom I referred.

He further revealed that the Shakespearean jingle, which I quoted, is often to be seen inscribed on jugs and mugs in village inns around the Bidford district.

Another Oak Bay reader, wife of a retired naval officer, wrote of a summer spent in the rectory at Rhyme Intrinsica, near Yeovil, Somerset.

Still another interesting letter came from a local philatelist, who during his 40 years' residence in Canada has discovered some interesting place names in the course of his stamp-collecting.

CANADIAN CURIOSITIES

MUCH OF THE material was published by him in the British Columbia Philatelic Society Bulletin in June and July, 1939, but he generously gives me permission to use it here.

Here are some post offices in the province of Alberta: Chin, Gilt Edge, Little Gem, Nightingale, Prairie Echo, Puffer, Rainbow, Stand Off, Tomahawk, Veteran, Wealthy, Westward Ho, What Cheer and Seven Persons.

Some of the names I can readily understand, such as Rainbow and Tomahawk, but What Cheer sounds like a salutation, and Seven Persons makes me curious as to who they are—or were.

Nova Scotia, perhaps because of its Scottish tradition, has some quaint names, suggestive of the old land, such as West Newby, Quoddy, Old Barns, and Chimney Corner.

ECUM SECUM, N.S.

IN STRANGE contrast to its Garden of Eden and Paradise is its Mangant Cove. While other odd names of intriguing origin are Ecum Secum, Middle Musquodab, Mushaboom, Rear-of-Little-Judique, Sober Island and West Intervals.

Saskatchewan goes in for very prosaic names. There's nothing romantic about Old Wives, Cutknife, Eyebrow, Plenty, Product, Renown, Revenue, Success, Tiny, Vantage, and Wartime.

Yet Romance sounds intriguing as a place name, as do Subrosa and Tangle Flags.

As one would expect, Quebec has some curious French-Canadian place names, the more significant when Anglicized, such as La Descente des Femmes, Trois Pistoles and L'Immaculate Conception.

And it would be interesting to know the legend behind Corner-of-the-Beach, Ha Ha Bay, Mutton Bay and Old Harry.

Stocks and Mines

TORONTO (Dow Jones)—Exploration crew of the Privateer Company plan to stay in the Tweedsmuir Park area near, freeze-up, advised D. S. Tait, Privateer president. He expects chief work will be done on the Chickamin Mountain property on Whiteside Lake, which Privateer optioned last fall. In addition, some further scouting in the general area may be carried out. Work on the Chickamin property was delayed when the strike of good values on Lindquist Lake some miles to the south caused the crew to head in that direction, where claims were taken adjoining the discovery claims of Pioneer Gold. Concurrently, Privateer has a small crew at Zeballos assembling further data regarding prospects for an iron and steel industry and also testing certain new gold showings. Production of oil by Anglo-Canadian and associated producing companies in Turner Valley totaled $60,003 in August, which was $4,627 more than in July. In the fiscal year to end of August value of production has been $385,996 against $425,942 in like period, 1943. In August the company's most recently completed wells, No. 12 and No. 13, reported output valued at $3,970 and $4,129 respectively.

At Wolfe's Cove

Surrounded by officials, newsmen and photographers, Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his cigar, Mrs. Churchill and Canada's Prime Minister Mackenzie King walk from their train to greet President Roosevelt, leaving his train at historic Wolfe's Cove, before proceeding up-town through Quebec to the Citadel for the Second Quebec Conference.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks generally continued to back water in today's market, although scattered issues breasted the current for modest recoveries.

Selling lightened after a fairly fast start, and, near the close, extreme losses running to around a point were trimmed in a number of cases. Transfers were about 700,000 shares.

Canadian issues were weak. Distillers Seagrams and Lake Shore eased 1/4 each. Hiram Walker 1/4 and C.P.R. 1/4. Dome Mines bucked the trend to gain 1/4.
